Connecting Theatre Lovers with Theatre Makers

Theatre Wire is a one stop shop for Vancouver theatre fans and visitors looking for tickets to local, independent, and Fringe theatre shows, as well as local festivals.

Theatre Wire is also a source for local theatre news, insider insights, and a weekly column written by local theatre legend Colin Thomas. As the Georgia Straight's lead theatre critic for 30 years, Colin Thomas established himself as one of the most trusted critical voices in the country. He's now launched "Colin Thomas's Fresh Sheet," a new feature offering readers links to the most thought-provoking and inspiring theatre coverage from local, national, and international sources. And he'll provide weekly tips about the Vancouver shows you really have to see. Theatre Wire also promotes a Subscription

Season, featuring local, independent and Fringe theatre. The 2017-18 Season is filled with local favourites including Solo Collective Theatre, ITSAZOO Productions, and Zee Zee Theatre alongside up-and-comers Bright Young Theatre, Aenigma Theatre, Nebula Company Theatre, and Fringe Festival hit makers, RAGMOP and Stéphanie Morin-Robert, and many more.

"In our third season we're really hitting our stride! Like the Fringe, this season is not curated, rather, it is up to you to be the artistic director," Vancouver Fringe Theatre Society Executive Director David Jordan says. "Follow your fancy and enjoy this delightful cross section of Vancouver's burgeoning independent theatre scene!"

Theatre Wire's visitors are:
